The logos of Razer, Panerai, and Conservation International (Asia-Pacific) appear against a black background.

Text appears: Partner for manta ray conservation.

The black background transitions to an underwater shot in a deep blue ocean.

Text appears: Support for marine species research is vital to understand animal habits and their ecosystems

Text appears: essential to the economy and food security of local communities.

Text appears: Why tag mantas?

We cut to an aerial shot as a majestic manta ray swims just beneath the ocean surface, followed by two adventurous snorkelers.

Text appears: Satellite technology reveals details of manta ray life,

We cut to an underwater shot of a manta ray swimming acrobatically.

Text appears: like breeding, feeding, and where they go.

The camera cuts to a closeup of the manta ray's mouse and face as it swims out of view.

Text appears: This information is key to their conservation and helps establish policies that protect them and benefit the coastal communities.

The camera cuts to a manta ray swimming amongst a school of fish.

Text appears: Do you want to be part of the solution? Make time for our ocean.

The three logos of Razer, Panerai, and Conservation International (Asia-Pacific) fade in.